for these 6,000 colonists, already some 50,000 soldiers have miserably perished since the first occupation-and all this with increasing sacri fices of life and treasure. Those who make War, should be the Fight ing.-Let rulers who crow so bravely, each on his own dueghill, meet in single combat; and if one kills the other, let the question be settled accordingly. If both are killed, let the next is authority take up the weapons, until there is only one survivor; and let his country take the land in dispute. Does this made of setting the difficulty appear barbarous to the reader? But is it not as much better than war as the number engaged in the deadly conflict is less? What is war but a duel on a great scale? or, according to Jefferson, "the unprofitable c ntest of seeing who will do the of redressing injuries.

There is another thing in which war is more barbarous than ducling, which is, that in a doct in war, they his others to kill one another, who know butle and care less about the quarrel. The object of the common soldier is pay and plunder, with the ficers to trample on all God's live with impunity. With the officer, the object is the exercise of arbitrary power, and the praise

When Aifred the Great instituted the ordeal of battle, it was a great advance on the barbar-ous manners of the age, and much be ter than those coully fouds, in which the parties involved not only themselves, but all their retainers. Then, why not edopt a plan which, barbarous and unchristian as it is, is not so bad as war?

INCIDENTAL DISSUASIVES FROM WAR .- England is full of hie Assurance Associations; and one of the most useful among them, the Temperature Life Assurance Institution, has adopted the provision, that, " if any person whose life is assured by the Institution, shall enter the Army, or Navy or Preventive service, his policy shall be volu; and, if any member shall be concicted of giving or accepting a challenge to fight, he shall be ex-cluded, and all his interest forfeited." Men begin to understand the practical bearings of peace and war on their own interests. ABOLITION OF MILITIA TRAININGS .- Nothing marks more certainly, though quietly, the ce-cline of the war spirit among the great mass of the people, than their unwillingness to continue the ever extremely popular system of militia dril's. It was retained in Massachusetts by a few war spirits, until nearly all men of sense become weary and ashamed of it; and then the Legislature in 1839 released from minitary drills all that hed be a liable to that service, and pre vided a fend of $50,000 a year to be distributed, at the rate of five dollars ca. h, among any number of the old militia not exceeding 10,000, who voluntarily trained a certain number of times every year. Still, even this offer has never willed in any year, more than 7,000 volunteers and the number, we believe, is constantly diminish ng.

sether elevated as to be revolting.

After an agreeable drive, the boy who conducted our diplomatist, stopped at a pair of bars.

" What's this?" said Mr. L. "This place is the Colonel's," replied the boy, "he's about as wide awake as a bear in a Jiniary thaw!"

After taking down the bars, and walking through considerable Cow-yard, Mr. L- approached double log-house, of an ancient fashion, about the doors of which was the usual accumulation of pigs, dogs, hens, and chips. An elderly farmer was seatother the most harm;" which multiplies, instead ed on a stump, smoking a powerfully fregrant pipe. " ts this Col. W.'s plantation? said Mr. L-

Will you be so kind as to say that Mr. L-Diplomatic Agent from the United States would be happy to see the American Minister near the Court of Texas!" said Mr. L-.

Upon this the elderly Farmer slowly screwed imself up off his sear, and poking his head into the loor of the log-but, cried out-" Gineral !" Soon afterward another elderly gentleman made his appearance at the door, dressed in a picturesque guise, with a pair of pantaloons that were not only ecedy, but which had every appearance of having

The Massachusetts Anti-Slavery Society held its anniversary last week, commencing on Wednesday and closing on Friday. This Sociery is composed of that portion of the Abolition ste who repudiate the self-styled 'Liberty party' as unwise, corrupt and false hearted, and who rely primarily upon moral rather than politi-cal influences for the overthrow of Sisvery.— Their morto, as applied to both Church and State, is, 'No union with Sizveholders;' and be-lieving the Constitution of the United States to be a pro-Slavery instrument, they refuse to give it their support, or to vote for any person to fill an office which requires of the incumbent an oath to sustain it. Among them are men of high moral and social stancing, whose conscientions integrity is unimerached, and who are capable of vincicating their principles and measures with a power and eloquence rarely heard in any quarter. Truly has Emerson said that 'elo-quence is dog cheap in Anti-Slavery Conversional Conversion of the s,' it the meetings of this Society are to be aken as a specimen of their general character. I enjoyed the pleasure -for it was really suchof listening to Germon, Phillips, Barleigh, Douglas, (he runaway Slave,) and Remond, whose graceful eloquence would do creen to the wearer even of a white skin. The Hurchinson Farsily, too, were present to enliven the feelings and highten the enthusiasm of the meeting by their harmonious strains; and frequently when the sympathies of the audience had been called forth by the impassioned appeals of some of the speakers, did they break out—spontaneously to all appearance—with a song made impromptu for the occasion by one of their number.

The atter hollowness and dishonesty of the Laberty Party were demonstrated by several speakers, but especially by Wendell Phillips -

The closing meeting was held at the State most conscientions flap, a little grain the richest sions, will do much mischief by giving to every erack-but never mind the har, let's go out and movement which the Legislature may make part, asp. ct.
